Spring At Last

BY FAITH HOPE CONSOLO, CHAIRMAN, THE RETAIL GROUP, DOUGLAS ELLIMAN

After a loong winter, spring arrives in New York City with a fabulous and eclectic collection of new shops from around the world. From luxe apparel to stunning gems to services that are all about looking and feeling good, celebrate spring!

All About Apparel

Sweden's Gudrun Sjoden brings colorful tunics and more to 50 Greene Street. Luxury sportswear brand La Civette, a favorite of those who frequent St. Tropez, St. Barts and more, is making its U.S. debut at 1242 Madison Avenue. Lanvin's Men's store has opened at 807 Madison Avenue. J. Press York Street snuck into town at 304 Bleecker Street. Erica Weiner crosses the river to Brooklyn for her second store, at 360 Atlantic Avenue. Scoop NYC is popping up its resort collection at 975 Washington Street.

Halston Heritage will bring a bit of the 70s back to Madison Avenue at 83rd Street. Sandro has a lovely new boutique, its fourth in the city, at 150 Spring Street. France's IRO will open its first U.S. location in Soho. Vintage-looking, but actually new, apparel is the specialty at the just-opened SlapBack, 490 Metropolitan Avenue in Williamsburg. Brides-to-be will prepare for that special day at Lovely Bridal Shop's new location at 182 Duane Street.

Just Gems

Iosselliani's first Manhattan branch was scheduled to open at 4 West 29th Street on February 10.

More for Men

Hugo Boss will add a third floor to its space at The Shops at Columbus Circle, creating a new flagship to replace its shuttered location on Fifth Avenue (now Armani).

Toddler Time

My Little Sunshine, which offers clothes, toys and even haircuts for children, will have its second New York City store at 145 Hudson Street

Amazing Accessories

Michael Kors will open an accessories store at Brookfield Place, formerly called the World Financial Center. Look for Anne Et Valentin's eyewear at 2 Prince Street in the not-too-distant future. Ranali continues the explosion of retail on the Lower East Side at 176 Bowery.

Fabulous Footwear

Ask Alice's quirky footwear will be available at its first store (252

Mott Street) in April. Chuckie's will open its third city location at 1052 Lexington Avenue. British shoe designer Kirk Geiger just debuted at 375 Bleecker Street.

All for Art

Garis & Hahn contemporary art gallery has taken its first space at 263 Bowery.

Bounteous Beauty

Orogold Cosmetics will offer superb skincare at 118 East 57th Street.

At Your Service

Trainer Anna Kaiser is planning a new studio, AKT in Motion, in the spring at a location to be named. Paul Labrecque will open his fourth salon in the city on the second floor of the Sports Center at Chelsea Piers in April. Dream Dry celebrated Valentine's Day by opening its Flatiron branch at 35 West 21st Street.

New Neighbors

Chacott by Freed of London, offering dance and fitness apparel (and skin care), and Hannari & MG, with pet items and children's educational goods.

Top Tipples

Le Palais des Thés has a second unit in the city at 156 Prince Street.

Haute Home

Très chic home furnishings purveyor Karkula has relocated from Tribeca to 98 S. 4th Street in Williamsburg, Brooklyn.

Sports Mavens

Golfsmith will have a flagship store at 420 Fifth Avenue.

Hot Wheels

Maserati of Manhattan signed for a 25,000-square-foot showroom at 619 West 54th Street.
